

Patricia Minton Sivcovich is soprano section leader at St. Paul's. She semi-retired to the desert in 2007 after 30 years as a professional opera and concert singer, 20 of those with San Diego Opera. She continues to perform and to record with Cappella Gloriana, San Diego's professional chamber choir, and for three years has been a judge for the finals of the Palm Springs Opera Guild vocal competition. Patti has served as a church musician at St. James-by-the-sea, La Jolla, First United Methodist Church of San Diego and Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist, La Jolla, and she taught private voice students in San Diego for some years. From 1998 – 2012 she owned and operated the talent agency Classical Performing Artists Management.